Don't.

Begging for money online is a very bad idea. The only thing you'll be getting from it, is being made fun of and becoming the target of some very bad words.

It's specially a bad idea to ask, or beg, for money on a website that does in fact provide free money for poker, casino, bingo and betting.

If you're in need of money to finish a bonus, simply deposit with your own credit card. If you can't spare $20 to pursuit a bonus, then maybe you should go down in limits and play less expensive poker and work your way to the top. Nobody becomes a poker pro overnight.

Remember - it's important to educate yourself and always analyse your game. If you don't, then you're most likely relying on luck to be your road to success - and luck doesn't always return the favor...

Have a nice weekend!
